

For 40 years, NSR has provided deserving high school athletes with the opportunity to fulfill their dreams and goals through college athletics. However, not everyone is selected, qualified and approved to be an NSR prospect. In addition to being an outstanding athlete, our prospects must have acceptable academic credentials, good character, and the attitude and personal qualifications that colleges have come to expect from all NSR student-athletes. College administrators and coaches recognize NSR student-athletes in every sport as being among the best college prospects in the nation.
